

Champion's Choice

#2 Chow Chow 2003
Multi BISS CH. Bear Creek's Sahara O'Shanku,

ESSENTIAL OILS TO
HELP YOUR DOG LIVE A
HAPPIER, HEALTHIER LIFE.

Canine Calm--

Helps with separation anxiety, when you have to leave your dog alone, or for fear of storms. Helps calm the anxious puppy or dog

Trainer's Edge-

Increases Alertness, and Brain function. Great for Trainers and Breeders.

Energy Spirit -

An emotionally uplifting blend with many uses. Added to drinking water, it acts as an immune booster and helps rid the body of toxins. It is antibacterial, antifungal, and antimicrobial.

Patio Blend Cedarwood -

A unique blend of essential oils, containing mints, lemongrass, pure citronella, and cedar woods. This blend fights away mosquitos. Apply to back of neck, base of tail and around collar area.

Pain Relief -

This blend is used to relieve pain associated with CHD and arthritis in the canine. This blend has a calming and soothing effect. Massage into achy joints.

Soothing Skin and Coat Spray -

Relieves itchy skin and hot spots. Enhances coat sheen. Apply to troubled skin areas or mist directly on coat.

To keep your dog in optimal health use essential oils from :

Lamp Aire

Testimonials

There's a new line of essential oils that have been specially blended just for canines called PAWS AWHILE. I'm really excited about it because they asked me to try their products

So far, they have 6 blends... Pain Relief, Canine Calm, Energy Spirit, Soothing Skin & Coat Spray, Patio Blend Cedarwood, and Trainer's Edge. They will be creating some blends in the future that are dietary related, as well as to support breeding. The creator of the oils is going full speed ahead on this, once I stressed how important this is to all of us.

Alot of people who use Apple Cider Vinegar should check out the Energy Spirit Spray...It can go in the dog's water and it's anti-microbial, anti-fungal, & anti-bacterial. It can even be sprayed on their paws when they've been to dog shows to support their immune system to get rid of germs or diseases.

Trainer's Edge is the one that I've been using alot lately, with Sonny being such a hard-head, trying to get him to FOCUS and relax while in the show ring, and he's having a HUGE turnaround, and seems to enjoy the shows and meeting people way more than before. A little Canine Calm to help ease the stress and tension of a nervous dog is good before the shows, too. I've used both on Sonny. He went from not even winning his class to getting RWD both days at his last shows!!!

All their products are composed of safe, healthy, and effective essential oils and smell wonderful, too. They already have a well-established line of essential oil sprays and fragancing lamp oils for humans.

Carrie Vorhees
Bear Creek Chow Chows

My dog Sugarbear was going to go to her first dog show a couple of weeks ago, and she was acting very nervous, lying on the ground, biting, growling. She was out of control. I tried Lamp Aire's product called Canine Calm. I poured some in her mouth, and within 10 minutes, she was up on her feet, wagging her tail, ready for the show. It was like she was a different dog.

Sheila Sanders
Sanders Chows